Here's what one of your deliveries could look like after shopping and picking up some cool new stuff to send yourself.

Imagine sitting at home and ordering an amazon product from the US to your house in Chile without ever having to go to the store.

Seamless and efficient delivery that changes the way that we interact with the markets and changes every concept we have of distance.

Courier Ventures

wingBe

Courier Ventures was a P2P delivery services that works through international flights and courier senders. The Startup was based out of Miami and had plans to operate out of every major airport in the world. I did a lot of creative and busy work, and was able to be a part of the UI/UX team for front end and client experience. .
